JOHN S. BATTLE, Democratic Nominee for Governor, made the following statement in regard to the proposed Constitutional amendments.

"I shall vote for these amendments for the following reasons:

"It is certain that the poll tax as a prerequisite to voting in the election of all Federal officers will be prohibited by Congress. It now appears that Congress will pass this law in February or March of next year. Although I believe such a law to be unconstitutional, I think it will be sustained by the present Supreme Court of the United States. If we fail to adopt the proposed amendments, we will have one set of laws and one set of qualified voters in Federal elections and different laws and different voters in State elections. This will be an impossible situation and will lead to endless confusion and to dangerous consequence. I therefore feel that the question of the propriety of a poll tax as a prerequisite to voting is not here involved. The question will be decided for us by Federal Congress and the decision will be against the poll tax.

"Heretofore, the poll tax list has been relied upon as a check against the registration list to determine the qualification of voters. When the poll tax list is abolished, there will be no accurate list of qualified voters and the door will be open to fraud and corruption in our elections. This situation must be corrected, and it would seem to me that the proposed constitutional amendment, which simply provides that 'every person registered since the year 1903 shall renew such registration annually in such manner as may be provided by law' is fair and reasonable. In other words, the General Assembly must pass laws providing for annual renewal of registration, and I am of the opinion that the method of renewing registration suggested by the Campbell Commission accomplishes this purpose with as little inconvenience as is possible. These ways of renewing registration are either, (1) by voting in the preceding year or (2) by paying personal property taxes before they become delinquent or (3) by applying to the Local Board of Elections for the renewal of registration. If the voter does any one of these three things his registration will be deemed to be renewed. To illustrate, I am now a registered voter and so long as I continue to vote regularly my registration will be autimatically renewed by the act of voting and for all practical purposes, I may forget all about all registration requirements.

If I fail to vote in an election in the year preceding that in which I wish to vote, but I pay my personal property taxes before they become delinquent that act alone will be considered renewal of my registration. If I fail to vote and if I fail to pay my personal property taxes, I may apply to the Local Board of Elections to have my registration renewed.

"We should remember that if we are to have honest elections, free from fraud and trickery without the poll tax list as a guide to the election officials, we must have an accurate, up-to-date list of all registered voters, and I can think of no simpler way to secure such list than that which is recommended.

"The amendments further provide that one not registered who desires to register must 'meet such tests as to literacy and such further requirements as the General Assembly may prescribe.' This language, of course, refers to one who desires to register. It does not apply to those now registered under present law and it does not apply to renewal of registration. I think it is generally agreed that a literacy test is proper: that the voters unless physically handicapped should be able to read and to write and have a sufficient intelligence to know something about his government. The General Assembly after full and fair hearings and after examination of the effect of similar laws in other States should write into law such a literacy test. This test will be uniform in every precinct in Virginia and when administered by the bipartisan Board of Elections will be applied fairly and impartially.

"It is true that the language in the amendment on this subject is broad, but I believe the General Assembly which now has power, by taxation and otherwise, to vitally effect the lives and well being of all of us, can be trusted to properly discharge its duty under this proposed amendment.

"The present capitation tax of $1.50 last year yielded $1,204,000, two - thirds of which under our present constitutional requirements went to the public school system, and one-third of which was returned to the localities. I do not believe the school system under present conditions should suffer this loss of revenue, and I would suggest to the General Assembly that this capitation tax be retained in the amount of $1.50, not as a prerequisite to voting, but as a collectable tax. The proposed amendment authorizes a capitation tax of $3.00. I do not believe that any amount in excess of $1.50 should be assessed at this time. In this connection, I think we should remember that the proposed constitutional amendment, authorizing a capitation tax not to exceed $3.00 is purely permissive and is a limitation on the General Assembly which but for such constitutional amendment would have the right to assess a capitation tax in an unlimited amount.

"To summarize briefly:-

"The Federal Congress is going to repeal the poll tax in Federal elections. Virginia should write her own election laws and not leave this vitally important matter to the Federal Congress. When the poll tax is repealed, we must have an accurate voting list in order that we may have honest elections. The method provided is simple and effective. A simple, uniform literacy test is necessary in order that our government affairs may be controlled intelligently. A small capitation tax will prevent the loss of large revenue to our school system and will cause every adult person to participate in the support of our schools. I believe that, on the whole, the proposed amendments are reasonable and fair and should be adopted."

PROPOSED AMENDMENTS
Question:

Shall Sections 18, 19, 20, 21, 22, 23, 25, 28, 31, 35, 38 and 173 of the Constitution of Virginia, which sections relate to the elective franchise, and, among other things, provide for the elimination of the poll tax as a prerequisite to voting, registration and renewal of registration of voters, the establishment of a State Board of Elections, and the levying of a school tax in lieu of the present capitation tax, be amended; and shall the Constitution be further amended by adding Section 31-a, providing for local boards of elections, and Section 38-a, prescribing the effective date of these amendments?

High School Chatter

Hi! We are back to let you know what's happening at A. H. S.

Everyone enjoyed a holiday from school Friday when the teachers were attending a convention in Richmond.

We were sorry to hear that Mrs. Gilbert and Mrs. Crawley were sick Monday. Mrs. Gilbert returned to school Tuesday and Mrs. Crawley returned Wednesday.

South Hill was barely defeated on Friday night! The score was 62-0. The team really had fun at that game. Congratulations to Ray Wingfield, who went over for a touchdown after receiving a pass. The only complaint we heard about the game was that the first team didn't get to play enough.

The last home game of the season is to be played Friday, November 11 at 8 P.M. Let's all be at the ball park and show the team that we appreciate their efforts this season.

Basketball practice got underway for the girls Monday afternoon with about 15 girls reporting for practice. Mrs. Brown and Mr. Bragg are coaching the team. Three games have been scheduled for December before the Christmas holidays. Due to the fact that Appomattox has only outdoor courts, all of the "home" games will be played in the town gymnasium.

The boys' basketball team has not yet started regular practice yet due to the fact that so many of the boys are playing football.

We now have a new kind of teacher rather the F. F. A. boys have a volleyball team. They play and succeed in a tournament Thursday night.

Congratulations to Charlie Harvey on being elected president of the 4-H Club.

Everyone enjoyed the singing in school Wednesday.

New Lighting For Tobacco To Be Shown

Fluorescent lights are nosing ahead of the sun when it comes to stripping and sorting dark-fired tobacco in Virginia.

To do a good job of sorting tobacco, a good uniform light is necessary. In past years growers have used daylight through a north window in the pack house. This light changes a lot during the day, and from day to day, depending upon the weather. So the farmer has sorted his tobacco either under poor light or only during the time of day when he thought the light was "right."

Artificial light overcomes this trouble, but ordinary electric light gives a false color to the leaves. The correct combination of fluorescent light shows the colors accurately.

Light fixtures recommended consist of one 40-watt "day-light" and one 40-watt "white" tube, each 48 inches long. This combination has been found best for bringing out the true color of tobacco. The two tubes use the same amount of current that two regular 40-watt bulbs would use, but produce about four times as much light.

At Virginia Extension Service, V. P. L., Associate Agronomist G. R. Mathews lists these general advantages in using fluorescent lights:

They reduce cash costs, by working a full day each day, regardless of sunlight, many farmers find they need to hire less day labor. Time for preparing the crop for market is shortened and the crop will go to market earlier, which usually means more money for the tobacco. Time saved could be used by many growers to get their small grain seeded on time. The better lights result in more uniform grading and a better average price for the crop.

The Extension Service and the Virginia Duck-Fired Tobacco Growers Association, Inc., are desirous of bringing to the attention of dark-fired tobacco growers the benefits to be derived from the use of fluorescent lights in tobacco stripping and sorting. To this end, R. B. Hudgins, county agent, announces that a sorting demonstration using fluorescent lights will be held in Appomattox County at the farm of Mr. Frank J. Smith on Tuesday, November 15, at 10:00 A. M. All dark-fired tobacco growers are urged to attend this meeting.

Amendments Are Voted Down

Burley Growers Vote on Quota: November 26

Listes of burley tobacco growers who are eligible to vote in the referendum on November 26, 1949, to determine whether they want marketing quotas continued on the 1950 crop, have been compiled by the PMA County Committees and are open for inspection in the county office.

The referendum has been called in conformance with the Agricultural Adjustment Act of 1938,which provides for quotas on burley tobacco. However, quotas will not be in effect for 1950 unless approved by at least two-thirds of the growers voting in the referendum. Mr. Bennett Harding, Chairman of the PMA County Committee, said, that "any person who has an interest in the 1949 crop of burley tobacco as owner, tenant, or share cropper is eligible to vote in the referendum being held November 26. No person," he added, "is entitled to cast more than one vote even though he may be engaged in producing burley tobacco in two or more communities, counties, or states."

"Marketing quotas furnish growers with a method of adjusting supply to demand and help them obtain fair prices for the tobacco they produce.

As in the past," Mr. Harding pointed out, "growers will vote on three propositions: (1) do you favor marketing quotas for three years (1950, 1951 and 1952; (2) do you favor the quota for one year, 1950, but oppose quotas for three years; or (3) are you opposed to any quotas?"

Museum Studied

H. A. Gurney, National Park Service Superintendent at the Appomattox Surrender Grounds, advises that a group of Park Service specialists on setting up historical museums were here this week. They made a study of items available for exhibit here and will help set up a suitable permanent exhibit.

We are advised that Mr. J. T. Irby, of Appomattox, has been notified that the National Park Service has accepted a period spinning wheel he donated for exhibit at the restored Appomattox Surrender Grounds. We are also advised that the list of items being offered for use in furnishing the restored McLean Peace House is rapidly growing.

Crop Activity To Be Explained

All interested persons are invited to attend a meeting at the Court house at 10 A. M. next Monday, in the interest of local participation in the work of the Christian Rural Organization Program, referred to as "CROP."

The organization has an active program in Virginia and over the nation and it is declared that Christian giving is helping to build a Christian peace in the physically and spiritually hungry world of today.

Fourth District Congressman W. M. Abbitt recently said, "The least we can do is to share our overabundance with those in dire need overseas and who are looking to us as the only means of help and solace."

The Christian Rural Overseas Program (CROP) is a program through which commodities are solicited from farm people on a community-wide basis and turned over to established church relief agencies of the individual donor's choice and distributed overseas to orphanages, institutions for the aged and ill, refugees and the hungry, irrespective of race or creed in Europe and in Asia.

U. D. C. Will Hear Article On Sweeney

U. D. C. will meet on Thursday, November 17, at 3:30 in the afternoon in the home of Mrs. J. A. Burke, with Mrs. Wm. Patterson Coleman and Miss Esther Coleman as joint hostesses.

Miss Kate Franklin will make a talk on Southern Music. Mrs. Ned Wagers will read an article on Joe Sweeney and his two brothers, Richard and Sam, who helped make Southern music popular not only in the South but in the North and abroad. The article to be read was published in the Los Angeles County Museum Quarterly and was sent to Mrs. Burke by Bolling Byrd Flood. Mr. Flood has made an extensive study of the Sweeney's and has chosen them for subjects in some of his radio talks.

The author states that: "Joel (Joe) Walker Sweeney played the violin and the gourd-shell banjo but at an early age developed an instrument of wood with a skin head to replace the more fragile gourd. About the year 1831 he added a fifth or thumb string to this new invention, thus producing the first of a long line of banjos." The banjo is said to be the only musical instrument ever invented in North America.

The Robert Edward Lee Chapter of U. D. C. and other guests will be invited to meet with the Appomattox Chapter.

EDUCATION WEEK

The Appomattox Parent -Teacher Association is observing National Education Week. A feature of the observance was a meeting at the local school when patrons were shown the activities of students in classrooms.

Wanted a Barn! Yes, that's the call from Coach Gordon Bragg of the Appomattox school. He wants a place where his basketball teams can practice on the afternoons when rain or bad weather makes outdoor practice impossible! Concord, Buckingham and other nearby schools all have nice gymnasium facilities for their teams. Arrangements are being made Appomattox "home" basketball tilts to be played at Concord. But a place to practice indoors is needed. Any suggestions?

Democrats win smashing victory in New York State elections.

Anti-machine leaders call for a constitutional convention to amend voting laws.

1352 Appomattox County voters went to the polls Tuesday in Virginia's general election, and gave a top-heavy majority to Democratic for state offices, but turned down an organization-sponsored proposal for amending the Virginia Constitution as to voting requirements.

John S. Battle, Democratic nominee of governor, received 1,224 of the votes cast, to 85 for Walter Johnson, Republican and 3 for Robb.

L. Preston Collins received 1,236 for lieutnant governor and J. Lindsey Almond won out for attorney-general.

John B. Boatwright was re-elected to the House of Delegates, with no opposition, receiving 1,228 votes.

The county vote on the amendments totaled 605 for and 711 against. This was one of the closest votes on the amendments in the state, as elsewhere the voters gave overwhelming disapproval to the plan to abolish the poll tax as a voting prerequisite and authorize the General Assembly to set up a new voting law.

Defeat of the amendments was a jolting set-back for the dominent organization in Virginia. Senator Harry Flood Byrd, Governor Tuck, Attorney General J. L. Almond, Lieut.-Gov. L. P. Collins, Senator A. Willis Robertson, and most of Virginia's Congressmen had put in vigorous pleas for the amendments. The fight against the amendments was led by Delegate Robert Whitehead, of Nelson. Mr. Whitehead is now urging a state constitutional convention next year.

Late returns over the state showed 47,498 for the amendments and 166,564 against, an approximate 4 to 1 defeat for the proposal.

H. S. Speaking ContestPlanned

Plans for the second statewide high school public speaking contest, sponsored by the Virginia Bankers Association have been completed and full details will soon be made available to all high school students, according to an announcement by John C. Davis, vice-president of State-Planters Bank and Trust Co., Richmond, and chairman of the Association's Contest Committee. The subject for this year's contest is "Opportunities for young people on Virginia farms." The subject was selected by the committee for the purpose of calling attention of young people of the state to opportunities on Virginia farms and thus in some measure help in reversing the trend of farm to city migration.
